Ozonated auto-haemotherapy was applied to 27 cows that were unable or had difficulties in standing up due to arthritis, laminitis, post dystotic neuroparalysis and Downer syndrome. 17 of 27 (63%) cows that recovered after treatment had significantly decreased levels of serum aspartate aminotransferase and creatine phosphokinase activities.